

Collaboration

Program Outline

Overview

Offices exist for three reasons: 1; to give employees dedicated space to work, 2; to give managers a domain over which to rule, and 3; collaboration.

Even when people gather, collaboration can be tricky. Information silos are present, different agendas emerge, communication is less than epic, and the result is often an underwhelming waste of time.

At Red Sky, we can help you upgrade your ways of collaborating to suit this remote environment meaning that you achieve the same, if not better, results from your online collaborations.

Topics

- The blockers of online collaboration
- The Online Collaborator's Mindset
- Tools to use together
- Exercise - Collaborate Now!

Outcomes

- A more collaborative mindset
