Managing a Remote Team
Program Outline

Overview

With the improvement of technology, worsening traffic, skyrocketing office prices, and a paradigm shift, remote working is on the rise. Rarely is it implemented smoothly and many employees and managers find it very challenging.

We look at when remote workforces make sense, and more importantly, when they don't. Then look at how you can set up and manage a remote team most effectively, and the key warning signs of a remote team member(s) beginning a downwards spiral and what can be done to right the ship.

Topics

- Optimal conditions for remote team members
- Setting up a remote team
- Managing a remote team
- Bringing an individual back on board
- Righting the ship
- Managing yourself

Outcomes

- Understand the challenges of managing remote teams
- More effectively set up and manage remote workforces
- Greater productivity and retention

Duration

90 mins virtual program (with prework)
