

Working Remotely

Program Outline

Overview

Working from home, flexible work, Results-Only Work Environment (ROWE), we've all heard these terms, and we know in many cases, they translate to – working far less effectively from a place you prefer.

In this program we discuss the benefits and limitations of working from a place other than an office. We then uncover the individual blockers and promoters of effective work and how you can best manage them to ensure that you and your employer achieve the best results from working remotely.

Topics

- Your remote working challenges
- Managing your mindset
- Managing your working relationships

Outcomes

- Overcoming barriers to productivity
- Better manage yourself and your mindset
- Increased sense of teamwork and reduced sense of isolation
